So then open up the CD-INPA-2006-06-24-EN.exe file and follow the instructions on screen. If you have played the BAK-INPA-2006 before, the setup will recognise it as the newer version. If not, it will be slightly different and you will need to follow the instructions that it gives you. Before you get started, there are a couple of items that you may want to check out: 1.If you play the new release of the BD-INPA-2006 that is to come out soon, you need to know that it is a different CD. It is a different track list and has a few minor differences to the present set, so it is a different install. 2.Also, the BD-INPA-2006 is the version that uses the standard BAK-label rather than the "Bak" on the previous version, so that may affect the way you use the program. 3. If you are used to using the JOYTOUCH application in WINAP (Winamp), there is an improved version of that that is now available for windows XP, which is INPA-UI6.5. I use the windows XP version for now, but it will be available in the next BAK version (I can't promise it will be in BAK-06-02-09 though). It is also worth checking out the CD-INPA-2006 BAK-EN-06-24 for all of the information and the disc set up. If you are planning to use the INPA-UI6.5 to go along with the JOYTOUCH application, you can use the free download of the INPA-UI6.5 from the Microsoft page here. The instructions for installing it are in the file readme.txt and the program is actually quite simple. 1. Download the INPA-UI6.5 file from the microsoft page. 2. Unzip the file and copy the INPA-UI6.5 folder to your INPA-WINAP folder that is on the disc. 3. Rename the INPA-UI6.5 folder to something like INPA-WINAP. 4. Run the INPA-WINAP.exe program. 5. You will see the "1/2" screen (you may have to click on the "1/2" button first 82157476af
